

Hydrogen future of transportation industry': Nitin Gadkari says trials under way on 10 routes"

New Delhi, Agency: Union minister Nitin Gadkari on Thursday said hydrogen will play a defining role in the future of transportation, with the government already conducting pilot projects on 10 highway corridors to test hydrogen-powered mobility solutions.

The ongoing trials are being carried out on the Greater Noida-Delhi-Agra, Bhubaneswar-Konark-Puri, Ahmedabad-Vadodara-Surat, Sahibabad-Faridabad-Delhi, Pune-Mumbai, Jamshedpur-Kalinga, Thiruvananthapuram-Kochi, Kochi-Edappally, Jamnagar-Ahmedabad and NH-16 Visakhapatnam-

Bayyavaram routes.

Addressing the Prawaas 5.0 and Bharat Prawaas Awards event in Gandhinagar, Gadkari said the government's hydrogen initiative was part of a broader push towards cleaner mobility.

"Our ministry is doing a pilot project on ten routes for hydrogen trials. I am sure the future of the transportation industry is hydrogen, and hydrogen is the fuel of the future, and we are working on that," Gadkari was quoted as saying by news agency PTI.

The minister said India's automobile industry was making significant progress in developing alternative fuel and biofuel technologies and expressed confidence that the country would emerge as a global leader in both innovation and cost competitiveness.

He also urged vehicle manufacturers and transport operators to focus on improving passenger comfort by adopting advanced technologies while ensuring affordability. "The initiatives taken by the automobile industry in developing buses are very important, and manufacturers and transporters should think about having good, comfortable transport from a technological point of view with world-standard technology. The duty of our manufacturers is to give more comfort with reasonable economic value," he said. Highlighting road safety as another major priority, Gadkari said India records nearly five lakh road accidents every year, resulting in around 1.8 lakh deaths. He noted that nearly 66 per cent of those killed are between 18 and 36 years of age, while road accidents also account for an estimated 3 per cent loss to the country's GDP. "It (accidents) also causes 3 per cent GDP loss.

Punjab ex-min kingpin of fake iPhone export scam: ED chargesheet

New Delhi, Agency: ED has filed a chargesheet against former Punjab cabinet minister and AAP neta Sanjeev Arora, accusing him of being the kingpin of a fake iPhone export scam where consignments were falsely shown to have been sent to Dubai using bogus purchase bills and export documents to launder Rs 103 crore.

Arora has been in judicial custody since his arrest by ED on May 9. His bail plea has been rejected by a Gurgaon court and an appeal is pending before Punjab and Haryana HC.

The prosecution complaint, filed before a special court in Gurgaon on July 6, is learned to have details of how around Rs 100 crore was allegedly passed off as money received from Dubai for export of iPhones. It consisted of "export remittance" of Rs 87 crore and Rs 16 crore in IGST and duty drawback refund.

The agency has alleged that "sham export transactions" were structured through fictitious procurement, related overseas buyers and circular fund movement. The total quantum of alleged iPhone sales has been estimated at over Rs 150 crore, of which over Rs 100 crore worth were exported to a Dubai-based company which is an investor in Arora's realty firm, sources said. ED has attached assets linked to the AAP politician and his realty firm, Hampton

Sky Realty Ltd, worth over Rs 55 crore. This includes bank accounts, fixed deposits, land, commercial premises and residential apartments in Ludhiana, Gurgaon and Chandigarh. An account in ICICI Bank that received over Rs 100 crore of export proceeds has Arora as its signatory, says the chargesheet. The agency has made Arora accused No. 1 in its chargesheet. The probe is based on an FIR registered against him and Hampton Sky Realty Ltd by Udyog Vihar police in Gurgaon on April 18. Searches have been conducted on premises linked to the former minister and associated entities. Also being probed are two Dubai-based firms, Fortbel Telecom FZCO and Dragon Global FZCO, which had allegedly received the iPhone consignments and made remittances to Arora's firm in India.

'Modi Yes' wing launched at Modi World School

Jhunjhunu. The newly built wing of 'Modi Yes' Young Entrepreneur School, an ambitious initiative of Modi World School at Wisdom City, was inaugurated. Chief guest was District Collector Dr. Arun Garg. Special guests were R.R. Morarka Government College Principal Prof. Surendra Singh and Lions Club President Dr. D.N. Tulsyan. Chief guest District Collector Dr. Arun Garg and Anvika Modi, youngest member of the Wisdom City family, formally inaugurated the new wing by cutting the ribbon. District Collector Dr. Garg said that in today's era, bookish knowledge alone is not enough. Modern skills and understanding of entrepreneurship are the real foundation of future India. Innovative initiatives like 'Modi Yes' will prepare students for practical challenges beyond textbooks. Modi World School Chairman Dr. Dilip Modi said the real purpose of education is not just to get degrees but to prepare students for life's challenges. Through 'Modi Yes', our aim is to awaken the spirit of entrepreneurship in students so they become 'job creators' of tomorrow, not just 'job seekers'. He credited School Director Garima Modi for realizing the vision behind this modern wing, whose foresight shaped the design and environment of 'Modi Yes' classrooms. School Director Akash Modi, Jhunjhunu Academy Group of Schools Executive Director Ashutosh Modi, Hostel Director Kurdaram Dhinwa, School Principal Dr. Ravi Shankar Sharma, Jolly Angels Director Ranu Modi, Shri Gopal Gaushala President Pramod Khandelwa and others were present.

E25 only being tested, no rollout decision yet: Puri

New Delhi, Agency: Petroleum minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Thursday said E25 (petrol with 25% ethanol) is "only being tested" and no decision has been taken on its rollout, dismissing speculation over the issue. "We have not even decided on it and E25 is only being tested now," he said, adding that the timeline for testing the fuel is not clear. Puri has maintained that the govt would complete scientific studies and consult all stakeholders before taking any decision. Road transport minister Nitin Gadkari told Media that the petroleum ministry will take a call on matters relating to vehicle fuel.

Once-a-week insulin shots arrive in India; but not for all: Doctors

New Delhi, Agency: Almost 104 years after daily insulin shots were first introduced, Indian patients with diabetes now have access to a once-a-week alternative. Danish drugmaker Novo Nordisk on Thursday introduced Awiqli (insulin icodec), the country's first weekly basal insulin for adults with Type 1 and Type 2 diabetes. India is among the dozen countries where the product was launched. For doctors, however, the arrival of the drug is less about replacing daily insulin than expanding treatment options. India has an estimated 101 million people living with diabetes and another 136 million with prediabetes, making it one of the world's largest diabetes populations. In patients with diabetes, insulin - the hormone that allows cells to use glucose for energy - either isn't produced at all or the body's cells fail to use it properly. While everyone with Type 1 diabetes requires insulin, Type 2 diabetes patients need it only when oral medicines can no longer control their sugar levels, either once or twice a day.

Awiqli reduces injections from 365 days a year to 52 days. Novo Nordisk said it could help overcome one of the biggest barriers to insulin therapy in India - fear of daily injections - which often delays insulin initiation by seven to nine years. The company said clinical trials of more than 4,000 adults, including Indian participants, showed better HbA1c reduction than daily basal insulin.

Delhi-based endocrinologist Dr Anoop Misra said the biggest advantage was fewer injections. "There has been little innovation in basal insulin for nearly two decades. Fewer needle pricks may encourage patients to start insulin when they need it," he said.

Doctors cautioned, however, that the weekly insulin is unlikely to replace daily injections for everyone. Endocrinologist Dr Shashank Joshi of Lilavati Hospital said patients would still require regular blood sugar monitoring.

CBI files first chargesheet in Reliance Home Finance Limited case

The accused are Reliance Home Finance Limited (RHFL), two former senior executives of the company namely Ravindra Sudhalkar (Executive Director & CEO) and Krishnan Gopalakrishnan Iyer (Chief Risk Officer) and former senior executive of Reliance Capital Ltd, Dhananjay Bhagwanprasad Tiwari (Chief Credit & Risk Officer) for offences of criminal conspiracy and cheating with intent to cause huge losses to public sector banks.

J&K orders screening of books with 'anti-national' content, opposition slams move Srinagar/ Jammu, Agency: J&K govt and University of Kashmir have launched a comprehensive review of books, directing heads of departments and school principals to remove any material deemed "controversial" or "anti-national". The move follows last week's withdrawal and political row over a book for govt school libraries that described the region as "India-occupied Kashmir" and "Indian-held Kashmir", and referred to banned JKLF founder Maqbool Bhat as "Shaheed". The latest order for a review has drawn sharp reaction from Srinagar MP Aga Ruhullah Mehdi of the governing National Conference (NC), who called the decision "deeply troubling." "Libraries exist to preserve knowledge, not curate political narratives. Erasing books does not erase history. It only impoverishes scholarship. Academic freedom and the right to engage with history must never become casualties of ideological control," Mehdi said. PDP legislator Waheed Parra echoed the criticism, describing the review as "the process of unhistorical." On July 4, J&K lieutenant governor Manoj Sinha ordered withdrawal of two books - Personalities and Legends of J&K by Hilal Ahmad and Santosh Meena, and Great Personalities of Jammu and Kashmir by Sushant Giri over "highly inappropriate content".
