

Tejashwi Yadav rejects Bihar exit poll projections, says numbers released during voting

New Delhi, Agency: RJD leader and Mahagathbandhan chief ministerial candidate Tejashwi Yadav on Wednesday dismissed the exit poll projections for the Bihar assembly elections, most of which gave a clear edge to the NDA and many pollsters predicted that the Mahagathbandhan would not form the government. He said he neither lives in false optimism nor in misunderstanding.

Addressing a press conference in Patna, Yadav claimed that even while people were still standing in queues waiting for their turn to vote, and the polling process had not yet ended, exit polls were already being released, predicting the BJP-JD(U) alliance's victory in the assembly elections. Follow Bihar exit polls live updates here.

"Yesterday, people stood in long queues during voting, even until six or seven in the evening. People patiently waited to cast their votes. And while voting was still underway, exit polls began to emerge. We neither live in false optimism nor in misunderstanding. These surveys are brought out merely to create a psychological impact, to put pressure on the officials involved in the election process," he said.

The RJD leader also questioned the sample size and criteria of the surveys, which he said had not even been made public. "If you ask any of those showing these surveys about the sample size, none of them can tell you.

Neither the sample size nor the criteria of the survey have been made public," he said. 'Mahagathbandhan collected feedback' Tejashwi said that the

Mahagathbandhan had collected feedback from people after they had cast their votes, claiming that they had received a positive response and that change was on the way. "After the election ended, we collected feedback from people, and the information we received has been extremely positive. In the past, such positive feedback never used to come. You can say that the feedback we received this time is even better than what we got during the 1995 elections," he said.

The RJD leader added, "Everyone has voted in large numbers against this government, and this time, change is definitely going to happen. I had already said that the results will come on the 14th, and the oath ceremony will be held on the 18th."

Bihar election exit polls 2025 Dainik Bhaskar projected 145-160 seats for the NDA, 73-91 for the Mahagathbandhan and 0-3 for the Jan Suraj. The Matrice Exit Poll forecast the NDA likely winning 147-167 seats, the Mahagathbandhan 70-90, and the Jan Suraj between 0-2 seats.

The People's Pulse gave 133-159 seats to the NDA, 75-101 to the Mahagathbandhan and 0-5 to Prashant Kishore's Jan Suraj party.

Exit poll projections are made by election survey agencies based on surveys of sample groups spread across constituencies in the state. The agencies interview voters as they leave polling stations after casting their votes.

However, exit polls do not always reflect the actual election results, and several instances in the past have proved them wrong.

Assam man arrested for raping, impregnating 16-year-old daughter in 2022: Police Silchar, Agency: A man in his 40s was arrested in Assam's Cachar district for allegedly raping and impregnating his 16-year-old daughter in 2022, police said on Tuesday.

According to police officers, the survivor, who later gave birth to a baby girl in the Udharbond area, lodged a complaint with the help of the Child Helpline on January 18, nearly two years later.

A case under Section 6 of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012, which deals with aggravated penetrative sexual assault, and Section 376(3) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC), which prescribes 20 years to life imprisonment for raping a woman below 16 years of age, has been registered.

"After receiving the complaint in January this year, we registered a case and began an investigation. The accused was absconding for the last 11 months. We managed to apprehend him on Monday night," officer-in-charge of the Udharbond Police Station Siimsing Timung said.

Police said the survivor initially filed the complaint this year at the Rangirkhari Police Outpost in Silchar town, around 18 km from the place of occurrence, alleging her father raped her multiple times at home. She also alleged that he threatened her with dire consequences, including killing her younger brother, if she ever revealed the matter to anyone.

The case was later transferred to the Udharbond Police Station for further investigation.

"The chargesheet was submitted within the mandatory time frame, and we gathered adequate evidence during the investigation indicating the alleged rape," an investigating officer said.

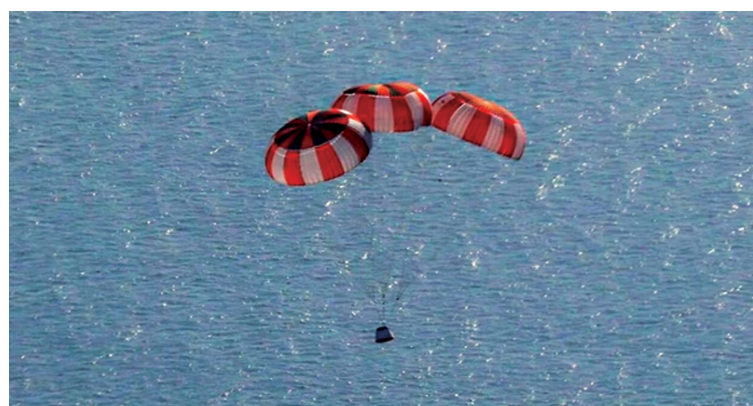

The accused was produced before a court on Tuesday and remanded to judicial custody. According to the complainant, her health deteriorated severely when she was around seven months pregnant.

Steps to Gaganyaan mission: ISRO's Main Parachutes test for module a success

New Delhi, Agency: The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) has conducted a successful test of the Main Parachutes for the Gaganyaan Crew Module at the Babina Field Firing Range (BFFR), in Uttar Pradesh's Jhansi.

This test, conducted on November 3, is part of the ongoing series of Integrated Main Parachute Airdrop Tests (IMAT) for the qualification of the parachute system for Gaganyaan Mission.

For the Gaganyaan Crew Module, the parachute system comprises a total of 10 parachutes of 4 types. The descent sequence begins with two apex cover separation parachutes that remove the protective cover of the parachute compartment, followed by two drogue parachutes that stabilise and decelerate the module, ISRO said in a statement on Tuesday.

"Upon release of the drogues, three pilot parachutes are deployed to extract three main parachutes, which further slow down the Crew Module to ensure a safe touchdown. The system is designed with redundancy—two of the three main parachutes are sufficient to achieve a safe landing," the space organisation said.

The main parachutes of the Gaganyaan mission deploy in a step-by-step process known as reefed inflation. In this process, the parachute first opens partially, which is called reefing, and then fully opens after a predetermined period of time, known as disreefing. This process is carried out using pyro device. In this test, one of the possible extreme scenarios of delay in the disreefing between the two main parachutes was successfully demonstrated validating the main parachutes for the maximum design. The test evaluated the system's structural integrity and load distribution under asymmetric disreefing conditions—one of the most critical load scenarios expected during actual mission descent. A simulated mass equivalent to the Crew Module was dropped from an altitude of 2.5 km using the Indian Air Force's IL-76 aircraft, as the "the parachute system deployed as planned and the sequence was executed flawlessly."

2 arrested for robbing jewellery from elderly women using handkerchief-swap trick in Lucknow

New Delhi, Agency: Two men who allegedly tricked elderly women into handing over their jewellery using a fake "police-check" story were arrested by the Krishna Nagar police on Tuesday. The duo used a deceptive handkerchief-swap trick to steal ornaments and flee before victims realised they had been conned, said police.

"The accused have been identified as Imran alias Munna (25), son of Jameel Ahmed, resident of Shahpur Bhamrauli Phatak under Dubagga police limits, and Kallu alias Raju (25), resident of Krishna Vihar. They were arrested from the Gangakheda railway underpass on Tuesday morning," said DCP West Nipun Agarwal.

According to the DCP, the accused would roam around neighbourhoods on a scooter under the guise of scrap dealers. After spotting elderly women walking alone, they would approach them and warn about "police checking" ahead, advising them to remove their jewellery for safety. The victims were told to wrap their ornaments in a handkerchief for protection. The duo would then cleverly swap it with another similar-looking handkerchief and flee with the real one.

"They changed multiple sets of clothes before and after the act to avoid identification through CCTV cameras," said ADCP South Vasanth Rallapalli.

Meghalaya finalises SOPs to tackle early marriages, violence against women and children

Shillong, Agency: The Meghalaya social welfare department has finalised its proposed Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) to address early marriages and cases of violence against women and children.

The draft has been submitted to the state's advocate general for legal vetting before it is presented to the Meghalaya High Court and made public.

The SOPs, once cleared by the advocate general, are expected to provide a uniform framework for law enforcement, social workers, and local institutions in handling cases of early marriage and gender-based violence.

Adviser to the department Paul Lyngdoh said the SOPs aim to bridge the gap between traditional practices and existing laws such as the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act. "The challenge is to strike a balance between cultural realities and the law of the land. Early marriages are widespread, and the law has to be implemented in a way that is both effective and sensitive," Lyngdoh said after a consultative meeting with stakeholders on Tuesday evening.

He said that implementation of the POCSO Act remains difficult in rural Meghalaya, where many communities are unaware of legal provisions. "We don't have child marriage as an institution, yet early marriages are common across the state. Many girls conceive at 13 or 14. When enforcement happens, villages often plead ignorance, saying it's a long-standing custom," he added. Meanwhile, the department plans a state-wide awareness campaign involving counsellors, experts, and Child Development Project Officers (CDPOs) to reach remote villages and educate communities about child protection laws. Lyngdoh also called for stronger community participation in law enforcement through the revival and empowerment of Village Defence Parties (VDPs). He said that in many rural areas, the nearest police outpost is several hours away, making it crucial for local residents to support policing efforts.

Chhattisgarh woman kills husband, stuffs body in bag, rings daughter to confess

New Delhi, Agency: A harrowing incident recently rattled Chhattisgarh's Jashpur where a woman absconded after she allegedly killed her husband, stuffed his body into a bag and called her daughter to confess to the crime.

In Bhinjpur village under Duldula police station limits, the 43-year-old Santosh Bhagat was killed by his wife, who covered his body with a blanket, and stuffed it into a trolley bag, news agency PTI reported quoting Jashpur senior superintendent of police Shashi Mohan Singh.

The incident came to light after their daughter, who lives in Korba, rushed to Bhinjpur with her husband the next day and informed Bhagat's elder brother Vinoj Minj, who shortly filed the case complaint.

The accused Mangrita and her husband, Santosh Bhagat had been quarrelling frequently, read a TOI report that quoted neighbours as saying.

According to the FIR, the couple had an argument on November 7. Neighbours said the dispute spilled over to next day, and Bhagat was likely murdered on the night of November 8.

Police booked Mangrita under BNS Section 103(1)

(murder) and launched a search for her. A team was also dispatched to Maharashtra to trace her. Bhagat is suspected to have died of bleeding from the nose and mouth.

The body was sent for autopsy, and the preliminary post-mortem report indicated a fatal blow to the temple inflicted with a sharp-edged weapon, officials said.

Mangrita, who used to work in Mumbai and had returned to the village a few months ago, is absconding and efforts are on to arrest her, police said. As per the complaint, the deceased has three children, all of whom are married and live outside the village.
