

35 Women Donate Blood, Sending a Message That They Are Second to None

PRABHAT HEADLINE

Jhunjhunu: A blood donation camp was organized at Dr. Meena Shekhawat's dental clinic on Road Number One by the Anantshri Sukhrum Maharaj Trust and the Stree Shakti Mahila Sangathan. The event went beyond mere blood collection; it aimed to raise health awareness among women and inspire them to participate in the noble act of blood donation. It was highlighted that with a balanced diet, women can participate in virtuous activities like blood donation just as men do. Nationwide, the rate of blood donation among women remains relatively low, primarily due to health-related issues and a lack of awareness. To shift this perspective and instill confidence in women, the Stree Shakti

Mahila Sangathan organizes this camp annually. This year, over 100 units of blood were collected, with more than 35 women donating blood and setting an inspiring example for society. Dr. Shalu Tibra, a member of the Stree Shakti Mahila Sangathan, led by example by donating blood first, thereby encouraging other women to do the same. Through their participation, the women demonstrated that they are in no way inferior to anyone. The camp was inaugurated by Stree Shakti Mahila Sangathan coordinators Lalit Rathore, Suman Meel, and Dr. Shalu Tibra, along with camp coordinator Dr. Meena Shekhawat. This year's camp was dedicated to the memory of the organization's former member, the late Rashmi Shekhawat. During the event, female doctors provided valuable information on maintaining good health, a balanced diet, and a regular daily routine. According to journalist Sanjay Saini, the increasing participation of women in blood donation indicates that they are carving out a new identity in the realm of social service, just as they other fields.

'Monster bites back': India slams 'Frankenstein' Pakistan over terror links; calls Indus Waters Treaty outdated at UNHRC

New Delhi, Agency: India launched a sharp attack on Pakistan at the 62nd Session of the United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC), describing it as a "Frankenstein state" that nurtured terrorism as state policy and was now facing the consequences of its own actions. Exercising India's right of reply during the interactive dialogue on the UN high commissioner's annual report, first secretary at India's permanent mission to the United Nations, Anupama Singh, rejected Pakistan's allegations against India and criticised Islamabad's repeated attempts to raise the issue of Jammu and Kashmir at international forums. This is the country where the sitting defence minister boasts of hosting, training and deploying terrorists as a state policy, and yet Pakistan calls itself a victim of terrorism, indeed a paradox which only Pakistan could sustain. It is a living example of a Frankenstein state, which is shocked when its own monster bites back," Singh said.

India also rejected references to Jammu and Kashmir made by Pakistan and the Organisation of Islamic Cooperation (OIC), accusing Islamabad of using international platforms to divert attention from its domestic challenges and record on terrorism. India is compelled to exercise its right of reply in response to references made to it by Pakistan and the Organisation of Islamic Cooperation. We categorically reject the baseless and malicious allegations made by Pakistan. We also categorically reject the references to J&K made by the OIC. Pakistan's propaganda is designed to mask its domestic failures and support for terrorism. Its misuse of the OIC Coordinator's role only reinforces this deception," Singh said. Reiterating New Delhi's position on Jammu and Kashmir, Singh said the Union Territory remained an integral part of India. "Jammu and Kashmir was, is and will always remain an integral and inalienable part of India. The only unresolved issue is Pakistan's illegal occupation of Indian territories and their return," she said. The Indian diplomat also raised concerns over the situation in Pakistan-occupied Jammu and Kashmir (PoJK), alleging repression and human rights violations in the region. Referring to recent unrest in Rawalakot, Singh said, "The ongoing tragedy in Rawalakot, the killing of hundreds of civilians and the brutal crackdown across Pakistan-occupied Jammu and Kashmir are the predictable outcome of a system built on forcible occupation and sustained through repression."

Government: Significant progress already made on interim US FTA

New Delhi, Agency: A day after PM Modi's meeting with US President Trump, govt said on Thursday that significant progress had already been made on the India-US interim free trade bilateral agreement and the two countries are in the final stages of concluding that agreement. Briefing reporters about Modi's G7 engagements, foreign secretary Vikram Misri also said India expects the US-Iran interim peace agreement to lead to sustained peace and stability in the region.

Misri said both leaders once again gave instructions to officials to conclude the trade agreement at the earliest. "Next week, in fact, US trade representative Jameson Greer will be visiting India to take forward these discussions and in the bilateral meeting between the PM and President Trump yesterday in Evian, this was a major subject of discussion," said Misri. On the US-Iran peace deal, the foreign secretary said it is natural to have concerns about the agreement, to which Israel is not party, and that India will be ready to do whatever it can to address next steps.

However, asked if India would nudge Israel to accept the peace terms, he said India is not a party to the conflict and would leave it to the parties to the conflict to decide how to arrive at arrangements to terminate the conflict and to find a roadmap for a path forward.

Tuljabhavani Temple introduces unified darshan system

Chhatrapati Sambhajinagar, Agency: In a major overhaul of the darshan management system at the Shri Tuljabhavani Temple, devotees holding donation darshan passes and those in the general dharmadarshan queue will now be allowed darshan from the same location, eliminating the difference in viewing points that existed earlier. The new arrangement came into effect on Thursday. The Shri Tuljabhavani Temple Sansthan has introduced the changes in view of the growing number of devotees visiting the shrine and to streamline crowd management.

Dharashiv district collector Keerthi

Kiran Pujar said that under the revised system, devotees holding Rs500 donation darshan passes and referral donation darshan passes will enter the temple through the Raje Shahaji Mahadwar. They will then be guided via the Kallol Tirth side and Tolbhairav steps to the third floor of the Darshan Mandap before being taken to the first floor. Devotees holding Rs200 donation darshan passes will be allowed entry through the Bidkar steps and the emergency gate leading to the first floor of the darshan mandap.

Those arriving for dharmadarshan will enter through the Bidkar steps and proceed to the fourth floor of the darshan mandap. The Rs500, Rs 200 and dharmadarshan queues will thereafter merge in the underground passage on the first floor, from where devotees will be allowed darshan of the deity in a uniform manner.
