Jaipur: The closing ceremony of the festival organized by the Antarrashtriya Samrasta Manch on the occasion of International Labour Day will be held on May 13, 2026, in a grand and dignified manner. This festival is dedicated to the struggles, contributions, and achievements of the working class. Providing information, the forum's coordinator, Dr. Kuldeep Prasad Sharma (Special Advisor, First Vice President, Nepal), stated that in this initiative based on social harmony and equality, the role of the working class is extremely important and fundamental in building a developed society.

He further informed that on this occasion, 51 selected individuals who have performed exceptionally in the fields of education, healthcare, justice, social service, and industry will be honored with the “Karm Shri Award” by distinguished guests. This event is being organized on the occasion of the first death anniversary of the founder of the forum, Late Shri Mahavir Prasad Tordi, with the objective of providing global recognition to talented individuals contributing outstanding work in society.

The motivating members of the forum are inviting talents from various fields to participate in the ceremony. The Chairman of the Selection Committee, a renowned legal expert and Chancellor of Roma International Culture University, New Delhi, also stated that the Antarrashtriya Samrasta Manch is continuously working to promote the ideals of “Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam” (the world is one family), “Global Village,” and “Satyam Shivam Sundaram.”

During the ceremony, selected talents will be honored in the presence of the national flags of 25 countries. The forum aims to contribute towards the revival of the Vedic and cultural heritage of India and Nepal, re-establish India as a “Vishwa Guru,” and strengthen India's role at the global level.

Additionally, the forum is working to recognize individuals who contribute significantly to the development of society from behind the scenes but have not yet received proper recognition on any platform. The Antarrashtriya Samrasta Manch is emerging as a strong platform to honor such personalities and bring their contributions to light.

Boondi Ladoo Samples Fail Firm's License Suspended

Prabhat headline

Jhunjhunu. During an enforcement drive conducted by the Food Safety Department, samples of Boondi Ladoos from a local establishment were found to be non-compliant. Upon the failure of these samples, the department took strict action. The Designated Officer and Chief Medical and Health Officer (CMHO), Dr. Chhotelal Gurjar, issued an order initiating action against a food business firm in the Surajgarh area, thereby suspending its food license. The Food Safety Officer had sent a sample of Boondi Ladoos to a testing laboratory on February 26. The laboratory report subsequently revealed that the sample did not meet the prescribed standards.

Consequently, acting under the directives of the Commissionerate of Food Safety and Drug Control, Jaipur, and pursuant to Section 32 of the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006, a notice has been issued to the concerned firm—Ganesh Mishan Bhandar, located at Buhana Moh, Surajgarh. The order explicitly states that the manufacturing and sale of Boondi Ladoos by the firm shall remain strictly prohibited until further notice.

Furthermore, the firm's food license (License No. 22219079000769), which was valid until August 26, 2029, has also been suspended. The department has directed the firm to improve the quality of its products and submit a compliance report promptly to facilitate further necessary action. CMHO Dr. Gurjar has appealed to the general public to consume only food products of standard quality and to report any suspicious food items by calling the department's control room at 0159232415. The identity of the informant will be kept confidential.
