

Man fakes suicide pact to kill girlfriend in Kerala

HT Correspondent

THIRUVANANTHAPURAM: A man has been arrested in Kerala's Kozhikode district for allegedly killing his girlfriend after convincing her that they would end their lives together, police said on Tuesday.

The accused, identified as Vaisakhan, is reported to have called his girlfriend over to his workshop in Kakkodi neighbourhood on January 24 where they had decided to end their lives together.

The couple were reportedly in a relationship for years and the woman was pressuring him to get married, said an officer aware of the matter.

"After reaching the workshop, Vaisakhan killed his girlfriend. The woman was found hanging inside the workshop by locals on the same day," the officer added. Though police initially presumed it was a suicide, Vaisakhan's role became clear in the course of the investigation and interrogation of family members of the woman.

An officer said that Pocco charges have been invoked as the accused sexually assaulted the woman when she was a minor. The accused is also a married. Further investigation is underway, the officer added.

MOBILITY PACT MAY EASE EU ACCESS FOR STUDENTS, WORKERS

NEW DELHI: An agreement finalised on Tuesday by India and the European Union (EU), coupled with the 27-member bloc's first Legal Gateway Office in the country, will facilitate the movement of students, researchers and seasonal and professional workers to Europe and enhance people-to-people exchanges between the two sides.

The memorandum of understanding on the comprehensive framework for cooperation on mobility was signed by external affairs minister S Jaishankar and EU trade commissioner Maroš Šefčovič on the margins of the India-EU Summit. Prime Minister Narendra Modi said the agreement, alongside a trade deal, will open up new opportunities in the EU for Indian students, workers and professionals.

European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen said the Legal Gateway Office will serve as a "one-stop hub to support Indian talent moving to Europe in full alignment with EU member states' needs and policies". She added, "This is good for our economies, this is good for the friendship between our people."

India currently has migration and mobility agreements with about half a dozen EU members, including France, Germany and Italy, and the new pact with the EU will facilitate the exchange of information with smaller member states and open up new pathways for Indian students and workers.

While mobility is handled by EU member states, foreign secretary Vikram Mirsi said that the new MoU will "provide guidance and facilitate authorisation" of visas and residence permits for Indians for studies lasting up to a year or shorter durations.

"If there are longer frameworks, then of course, they go back to individual member state competencies. The same goes for research or for other types of posting agreements," he said.

Mobility and skillings is also one of the five pillars of a new five-year comprehensive strategic agenda finalised at the Summit, with the two sides agreeing to support mutually beneficial skills and talent mobility while "managing migration issues".

The first pilot EU Legal Gateway Office will provide information and support the movement of workers to the bloc, starting with the ICT sector. Both sides will use the EU Talent Pool IT platform to facilitate recruitment of workers in shortage occupations.

India and the EU will modernise and simplify Schengen visa procedures through the digitalisation of visa procedures, and address the challenges of visa fraud and document verification. They will also strengthen mobility exchanges of students, academics and researchers through initiatives such as the Union of Skills, Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Programmes, and Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions, and Indian funding programmes such as the Scheme for Promotion of Academic and Research Collaboration.

A high-level education and skills dialogue will bring together policy-makers, quality assurance authorities, education institutions and training providers, and the two sides will collaborate on higher and vocational education. This will include satellite campuses and language training in India.

The two will also strengthen cooperation in tourism and support skills development and technical qualifications across EU and India in critical tech areas and support mobility schemes under Horizon Europe and Indian fellowship programmes.
